Counseling services

A specialized HIV treatment centre in Hyderabadsuch as HIV@AIDS clinic offers counseling services to its patients. It provides psychological as well as emotional support to the patients suffering from trauma, guilt triggered by societal judgment, fear, and grief. Such centers also help patients understand the ways of transmission of the virus. Not only this, but the HIVAIDS clinic also provides its patients with nutrition plans throughout their treatment. They ensure that their patients receive adequate nutrition at the right time. Patients can also be a part of the HIV survivors community by attending support groups.

Conclusion

Apart from the above-mentioned treatment facilities, Hyderabad's medical research institutes are constantly researching new treatment approaches and medicines with lesser side effects to control the growth of the virus. From support groups to prevention of mother-to-child transmission (PMTCT) programs, Hyderabad is well-equipped with all the facilities necessary for the control of this catastrophic illness. Also, there are several voluntary counseling and testing centers, such as HIV AIDS Clinic Hyderadad, across the city that
